Summary

Provide assessment, counselling, referral, and follow up services to youth and families with challenges associated with mental health and/or substance use. The Youth and Family Counsellor will provide single session brief walk in counselling services that reduce risk, promote positive choices for a healthier lifestyle, and support youth and family's connection, stability, and attachment to community.

This program is part of an integrated service delivery model (Foundry) using ongoing collaboration with Primary Care, Youth and Family Substance Use Services, Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD), and other community partners and resources as needed.

Key Duties and Responsibilities

To perform the job successfully, the counsellor must be able to perform both the general and specific duties in a consistent and satisfactory manner. Other duties may be assigned.

- Provide single session brief solution focussed counselling in a drop-in model centre.
- Provides individual, family, and group counselling using therapeutic techniques drawn from theoretical frameworks such as emotion focussed family therapy (EFFT), brief solution-focused, narrative, motivational interviewing, client directed outcome informed, harm reduction or other best or promising practice.

- Establishes and maintains coordinated working relationships with other human service providers and caregivers.
- Provides crisis intervention and support to children, youth, and their families when required.
- Refers youth and their families as necessary to other services, residential programs, support groups, etc. Efforts are made to reduce or eliminate barriers for clients needing to use a resource. Provides follow-up and support in these situations when required.
- Maintains client records and provides statistics and reports as required.
- Participates in regular clinical consultation and supervision.

Qualifications

The requirements listed below detail the knowledge, skills, and/or abilities required to perform the essential duties of the job.

Education and/or Experience

A bachelor's degree in social work or in a related human services field, with specialized training or experience in the area of mental health. Two (2) years' experience which should include:

- Experience working with high-risk youth, and their families, with mental health and substance use issues in a counselling or other helping capacity.
- Experience in planning and leading educational, counselling, or support groups.
- Experience in working with, and extensive knowledge of, mental health issues.
- Remaining up to date in professional knowledge and practice.

Counselling Skills

- Demonstrated ability to use counselling techniques and approaches.
- Knowledge and experience with brief and comprehensive assessment, counselling, and treatment approaches.
- Knowledge and experience in maintaining confidentiality and appropriate boundaries, and following a professional code of ethics.

Case Management Skills

- Demonstrated ability to work constructively and cooperatively in a team setting.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.
- Knowledge and experience in integrated case management practices that involve families, community, MCFD, and other systems in case planning with youth.
- Knowledge and experience with case recording practice.
- Knowledge and experience with referral, screening, and case conferencing practices.
- Knowledge of community resources for youth and families.

- Ability to utilize clinical consultation and supervision to enhance and meet required standards of practice.

Group Facilitation Skills

- Demonstrated ability to plan, lead, and evaluate groups.
- Knowledge and experience with group education, skill building, counselling, and support techniques.

Other Skills & Abilities

Counsellor must:

- Demonstrate a level of cultural sensitivity and understanding of the client population's cultural and socio-economic characteristics.
- Have the ability to form a mutually respectful partnership with persons served, and their families, in which they are helped to gain skills and confidence to address any issues and problems they face.
- Have the ability to accept the differences they will find among their clients.
- Accept clients' rights to self-determination and individuality, and must not discriminate on the basis of race, ethnicity, language, religion, marital status, gender, sexual orientation, age, abilities, socio-economic status, political affiliations, or national ancestry.
- Have a positive conviction about the capacity of people to grow and change.
- Have the ability to work respectfully and in partnership with other team members, including referring authorities.
- Have the ability to set limits and maintain the helping role of the practitioner, and to intervene appropriately to meet the needs of the persons served or other family members.
- Recognize the value of a nurturing family as the ideal environment for a person.
- Counsellor must have the ability to recognize persons with special needs, and make appropriate referrals.
- Have basic computer and Internet skills.

Other Job Requirements

- The counsellor must be able to work flexible hours to accommodate clients, sessions, and groups, meet outside of typical office hours, and deal with crises.
- Some driving is required to attend meetings and to enable contact with youth/families at home or in the community. The counsellor must have a valid driver's licence and safe, reliable transportation, and must obtain appropriate insurance as per Society policy.
- Two completed, acceptable criminal record checks, one from the Criminal Records Review and one from the RCMP.

- The counsellor will follow the Code of Ethics and Mission Statement of The John Howard Society of North Island. The counsellor will also abide by the relevant rules and regulations as set out by MCFD standards, policies, and guidelines.

Diversity

The John Howard Society of North Island welcomes applications from all qualified applicants including but not limited by those of any gender, race, orientation, or disability. Multilingual skills and multicultural competence are assets.
